Sally,

May your joys this Christmas season keep the blessing of God's gift, the baby Jesus, our Savior, foremost in your mind.

Yes, we all say it, "another year has passed far too quickly". We send our very best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a blessed New Year. As usual, ours will be a quiet time celebrating with friends here in Green Valley.

It seems impossible, but we have now resided in Arizona for ten years. We're definitely glad to have made the move to the warmer climate. Living just south of Tucson allows us access to numerous shopping, restaurants, physicians and sights that we didn't realize existed. The roadrunners and hummingbirds are such fun to watch (we haven't heard the beep-beep of the roadrunners like the cartoons though).

While our travels were rather limited, we were excited to have visits from friends and relatives from CA, WA, IN and AZ. We did manage to go to two Richland Bomber gatherings in Arizona for any graduates of RHS; was fun re-establishing friendships at one of the gatherings with ex-neighbors Steve Rector, and Jan (Sinderson) and Sue (Reeb) Nussbaum. None of us had changed a bit.

We were fortunate to have Gale & Cal visit in March; then Gale returned in late July (for 3-weeks) and again in November (for 1-week). The 3-weeks visit was due to Gene's 27-day stay in the hospital, but that's now all behind us and we praise and thank God for bringing him through some pretty tough times. The 1-week visit was to check on the 'old folks'.

We continue to stay busy with church-related things. I recently completed a 120-page cookbook that the ladies group is selling -- a challenge to get it all together, but was a fun project. Gene is still enjoying a new weight machine he purchased; still a Vectra brand, and it has helped him regain some of the strength lost during his illness.

May you have a very Happy New Year -- drop in any time.!

Merry Christmas

There's a Christmas carole that tells the story best of all:

While shepherds watched their flocks by night, all seated on the ground, the angel of the Lord came down, and glory shone around. "Fear not" said he, for mighty dread had seized their troubled mind; "Glad tidings of great joy I bring, to you and all mankind. To you in David's town, this day, is born of David's line, a Savior who is Christ the Lord; and this shall be the sign: The heavenly Babe you there shall find to human view displayed, all meanly wrapped in swaddling-clothes and in a manager laid." Thus spake the seraph - and forth-with appeared a shining throng, of angels, praising God, and thus addressed their joyful song; "All glory be to God on high, and to the earth e peace; Good will henceforth from heav'n to men begin and never cease. Amen.

Thank you for letting me know about Sally passing away. Her Father (Harry) was married to my husbands (JIM) grandmother (FLOSSIE).

She had invited me up several times for a visit but something always seem to happen. This past May my husband died suddenly and I was again hoping to make the visit but a lot was going on and plans were changed.

It was a shock to hear the news. When I called her in May to tell her about Jim's passing she seemed fine. I am glad she didn't SUFFER a long time. There is some comfort in that.

This has been an awful year for my family. We have lost 4 friends and 3 relatives this year. I am hoping to get this year over and hope next year is a better one.

Dear James,

Sorry it's taken so long for a reply to your letter concerning the Waldkoetters.

My grandmother was Louise Ravens Beverforden born 30 Nov 1872 in Jackson County. Her parents were Anna Maria Louisa Waldkoetter and Heinrich Friedrich RAVENS.

When some of the Waldkoetters wanted to adopt my grandmother, her father Heinrich Ravens packed up the whole family and moved to Kansas City, Missouri. I lived with my grandmother for several years before she died. She bribed me not to go outside to play, so she told me stories about her family and childhood.

GOD'S GARDEN

God looked around His garden
And He found an empty place,
He then looked down upon this earth,
And saw your tired face.
He put His arms around you
And lifted you to rest,
God's garden must be beautiful,
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering,
He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never
Get well on earth again.
He saw that the road was getting rough
And the hills are hard to climb.
So He closed your weary eyelids
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
It broke our hearts to lose you,
The day God called you home.

Dear Waldkoetter or Leercamp family member

We are searching for a lady who was a school teacher at North Vernon High school in the mid 1940's. She had graduated from Ball State University and was a teacher of Home economics and Physical education at that time. She was also a class sponsor who is fondly remembered by several who were in the school at the time.

The problem we would like some help with is: we have no idea what happened to her after school, these were war years and many people moved around a lot. Perhaps you may remember this lady, her maiden name was Marie Leercamp.

According to several people' s memory she married a man named Waldkoetter. No one from the class she sponsored has had contact with Marie , it seems she moved away from North Vernon after her marriage. We would like to learn of her whereabouts or whatever, she would likely be nearing 80 years now.

We would appreciate it if you could furnish any light as to her current address or location.

I am enclosing a post card you may use to let me know any information you may remember about her. If you know nothing about Marie, you may use the post card to write a friend you haven't seen for awhile.

Also you may call me at 1 812 522 1448 with any information you may have about this lady .Thank you for any help you may be able to provide and I hope this letter finds you in good health.

With Love

Wishing
You Happiness
at Easter and Always

It doesn't seem so long ago
But more like yesterday
That you were just
a little girl
Still happily at play—
And yet, somehow,
as time has passed
You've grown
still sweeter, Dear—
That's why you're thought so much of
And are loved more every year!

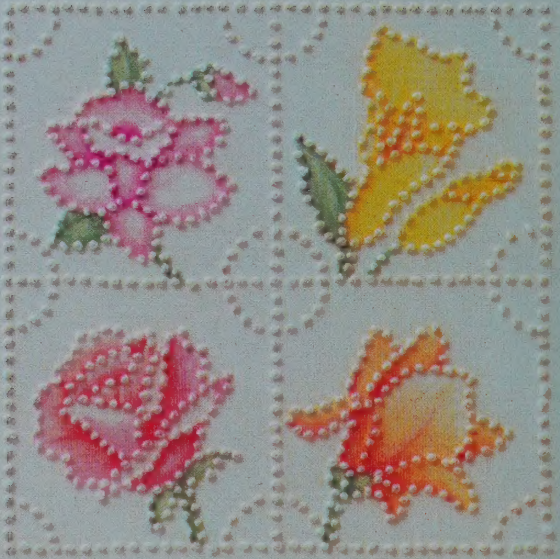
With Love, Daughter



A daughter's someone special,
always sweet and thoughtful, too,
And she brings the kind of happiness
that lasts a lifetime through!

Don't often get the chance to tell you
day by busy day
That a daughter dear as you are means much more
than words can say,
But your birthday is
the perfect time
to say that, all year through,
You're a daughter to be proud of
and to love a whole lot, too!

Happy Birthday

Christmas 1993

Season's Greetings,

The grand event of 1993 was the June 26 marriage of our daughter, Amy, to Ted Otten, a young man from New Jersey close to Philadelphia who also graduated from Drew University. The year of planning for the wedding went like clockwork because of Amy's organizational skills and the hiring of professionals who knew what they were doing. Arlene just followed along beside Amy and relished the time together. The big day came and went all too fast, but thank goodness for the many pictures and videos. Bob proudly escorted Amy down the aisle while Ken was one of Ted's ushers. The time to visit with our many family members and friends was too short, but we hope all will keep in touch.

Before the wedding Amy had two showers which actually stayed surprises. The first, given by the Ottens, happened the March weekend of the big blizzard. Knowing a storm was coming, we travelled to Jersey that Friday evening. The Ottens were able to delay the event from Saturday evening to Sunday afternoon. Most guests got to the beautifully decorated hall and laviously catered dinner. The weather was perfect for the second shower the Sunday afternoon of Memorial Weekend, given at the home of Amy's maid of honor in Carmel. This shower was only for the ladies, including a contingent of Ottens. You'll have to ask Amy about her bachelorette party the night before given by her bridal party. My, how times have changed!

Shortly after the wedding Bob, his sister Ruth and I spent a few days in Boston. Ruth had wanted to check out one of our ancestors as we toured the historic spots. Since our motel backed against Fenway Park, Bob insisted that we see a ball game. I think we avoided the post-wedding blues by taking this little excursion.

After a honeymoon in Barbados, Amy and Ted are now settled in Thorofare, N. J. Ted is teaching first grade in a suburb of Philadelphia. Amy found her first social work job after completing her Masters at Columbia University last May. Surrounding school districts send their emotionally disabled students to the small, private school where Amy works. Not to forget Ken, he continues to work in NYC at Dell Publishing, but has moved from expensive Manhattan to Brooklyn.

Along with all the good, we have the sad news of the death of Bob's Mom in early April. Even though her passing was a blessing because of her vegetative state in a nursing home, the finality of the good-bye still hits us hard . The strong support of family and friends helped, as did the memorial service with Mom's favorite hymns, readings and celebration of her life. In addition, the new week began with Easter, praising Christ's resurrection and the power of life over death.

The summer went by quickly with time at home and a few short trips. In early July we checked up on the newlyweds, visiting Ted's Mom on a long weekend. The days were extremely hot so we did not do much sightseeing other than a wonderful few hours in the air conditioned Philadelphia Museum of Fine Arts and box seats at an evening Phillies game. The Otten family made us feel most welcomed. A few weeks later Bob flew to Atlanta to visit a former student and his family. While Bob was away, Arlene could not sit at home so joined a friend at Tanglewood, taking in as many concerts as possible in one weekend. Then we always take time to be with our dear friends, Les and Lila Hall, who live near Cooperstown. The summer ended with a week at the Jersey shore in Stone Harbor. The Storers and the Ottens relaxed together, soaked up the sun and ate well. How fortunate we are that our families get along so well.

In October, Bob had a Purdys Central High School Reunion, the first since his graduation. A classmate and his wife, Rick and Carolyn Muller, stayed the weekend with us. Saturday the former students dined and danced, and on Sunday caught up on all the news of one another at a fun barbecue. The weekend went too fast.

The blending of families continued at Thanksgiving here at the Storers. Ken, Amy, Ted, his Mom and aunt and Bob's niece and husband joined in our feast and thanks for all that we have, especially the love and caring of family. This Christmas we shall be at the Ottens, share Amy and Ted's Christmas in their first home and probably visit many of Ted's relatives who live in the area. Their hospitality is warm and open.

This coming year in our own, small ways may we counteract the meanness and violence of our world by joining the quiet revolution, spreading the underground slogan to "Practice Random Kindness and Senseless Acts of Beauty." Let us look to the Light, keeping the love of Christ in our hearts.

Christmas Joy to all,

Bob + Arlene

IN MEMORIAM

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow
me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through;
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way.
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy

I was so upset with Rod & Nancy Sat. I had called her when they were coming to Cin. before & told her I wanted to send you some things they didn't even call. I had corn beans, tom, squash I wanted to send. was so sure they would call I got up early Sat. a.m. & baked Zucchini bread. They may want me to keep Kellie again.

I have been canning, have 21 qts of beans & 16 qts of beets. The tomatoes are getting ripe now so I'll be working on them soon.

We had a letter from Mary 2 wks after she was home. She said she had a good flight. I want to get her birthday card mailed

I have been making pickles; I made 12 pts & have another jar in Salt water. I made 7 qts of dill pickles. Mrs Deputy gave me the recipe, they say they are so good. one jar didnt seal, so I put it in the ref. dont use them for 2 wks & I can hardly wait to try them. be 2 wks Sat.

These kids next door worry us to death. The big one is getting so smart & the parents never know what they are doing. that little boy mows & they arent even out with him. They have never cut the

TO PARENTS OR GUARDIAN

This report card is sent to you at regular intervals in order that you may know how your child is progressing in school. Its effectiveness will be determined by the response of both parents and pupils to the estimates given.

Your signature does not imply approval or disapproval; it signifies that the report has been received and inspected. You should consult with the teacher and the principal if your child's record is unsatisfactory.

Pupils who are regular in attendance, attentive in class, who follow a regular schedule of home duties and who keep in good physical condition are almost certain to succeed in school.

You are most cordially invited to participate in the life of the school by visiting our classes in their regular work and by attending special programs as they are given throughout the school year.

Dear Sarah:

I am enclosing some information about our nursing program which I believe is self explanatory. I believe you would profit from participating in our Nursing Career Day which will be held at Evansville College on Saturday, February 19th. Students should register between 10:00 and 10:30 in the McCurdy Alumni Building and will be our guests for luncheon. We have planned tours of the College and Hospital and will visit the Nurse's Residence for tea. We will try to finish early to enable those who come from some distance to return home before dark.

In case you are not able to join us on Saturday, it might be well for you to make an appointment to come at a later date. We do have scholarships available but applications are coming rapidly and if you plan to apply for a scholarship, you should lose no time in having your high school record filled out and sent in to us. I am enclosing blanks for this purpose.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sara:

Test results for the examination which you took on April 16th have been received. All your grades are somewhat above average with the exception of language and reading comprehension. These are slightly below average.

It is a pleasure to tell you that on the basis of these grades, your high school work and your principal's recommendation, we are awarding you a scholarship to pay your first year's tuition and fees at Evansville College.

The scholarship which is being awarded to you is given with the understanding that you will complete the nursing program. Should you decide at a later date that you wish to transfer to another program or discontinue your work with us, it would be expected that you would repay your scholarship. I am sure you will understand that our scholarship funds have been procured with some difficulty and are intended to increase the number of well qualified nurses in our State.

You will receive a letter from us at a later date informing you about your physical examination and immunization tests. Should any problems occur to you, please feel free to write us. In any case, we will expect a note of acceptance of your scholarship.

Dear Sal,

I guess nows as good a time as any to write.

Did Imo come out last nite? She took me home about 10:15 and I thought she would go out there next.

I went down to the H. S. about 3:30 and she was talking to those women so I slept about twenty min. while I waited on her. Then we talked and cleaned the office till about 4:45 when we came out to the Drive-in, After we left there we went to my house for about 5 min. and then to the Kremac where about 10 kids including me were planning to Eat, Then she went to clean-up for the dance and we went to the show. Later I went down to the school and danced awhile and slept another 20 min. while waiting on her. Gee Ain't life grand.

I think I made a big mistake though by, leaving the gang and going with Imo, although it was fun. She asked me where they were so I have reason to beleive she thinks so to.

Another time I goofed yesterday was at work. Janet and I took 2 out of 3 with a nickel and flipped (she had to work) I wish they would set up a schedule so we would know when to work. Dick says he will after schools out but, I know Dick.

I have to work tonite. And then wash my filthy head.

Sally, Take care of Sandy! Not that she needs it but you now how Judi, Patty, and Phyllis treat her. (like dirt). And "by gum" that kid is a long ways from dirt.

I really must close and do some work on my Algebra.

Loads of Love,
Lil

P.S. Take care!

TO PARENTS OR GUARDIAN

This report card is sent to you at regular intervals in order that you may know how your child is progressing in school. Its effectiveness will be determined by the response of both parents and pupils to the estimates given.

Your signature does not imply approval or disapproval; it signifies that the report has been received and inspected. You should consult with the teacher and the principal if your child's record is unsatisfactory.

Pupils who are regular in attendance, attentive in class, who follow a regular schedule of home duties and who keep in good physical condition are almost certain to succeed in school.

You are most cordially invited to participate in the life of the school by visiting our classes in their regular work and by attending special programs as they are given throughout the school year.

CARILLON RECITAL

PRELUDE: "Psalm XIX" .... Marcello
Ralph W. Waterman, M. Mus.

PROCESSIONAL HYMN: "Ancient of Days" .... Jeffery

(Let the Congregation stand during the processional and remain standing until after the invocation.)

Ancient of Days, who sittest throned in glory
To Thee all knees are bent, all voices pray;
Thy love has blessed the wide world's wonderous story
With light and life since Eden's dawning day.

O Holy Father, who hath led Thy children
In all the ages, with the fire and cloud,
Through seas dryshod, through weary wastes bewildering;
To Thee, in reverent love, our hearts are bowed.

O Holy Jesus, Prince of Peace and Savior,
To Thee we owe the peace that still prevails,
Stilling the rude wills of men's wild behavior,
And calming passion's fierce and stormy gales.

O Holy Ghost, the Lord and the Lifegiver,
Thine is the quick'ning power that gives increase;
From Thee have flowed, as from a pleasant river,
Our plenty, wealth, prosperity, and peace.

O Triune God, with heart and voice adoring,
Praise we the goodness that doth crown our days;
Pray we that Thou wilt hear us, still imploring
Thy love and favor kept to us always. Amen.

INVOCATION .... THE REVEREND WILLIAM L. WHITE

RESPONSE: "Dresden Amen" .... Traditional

SCRIPTURE: Psalm 26.

PRAYER .... DR. MELVIN W. HYDE

CHORAL RESPONSE: "Threefold Amen" .... Danish

HYMN: "God of Grace and God of Glory" .... Welsh

God of grace and God of glory,
On Thy people pour Thy power;
Crown Thine ancient Church's story;
Bring her bud to glorious flower.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
For the facing of this hour,
For the facing of this hour.

Lo! the hosts of evil around us
Scorn Thy Christ, assail His ways!
Fears and doubts too long have bound us,
Free our hearts to work and praise.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
For the living of these days,
For the living of these days.

Cure Thy children's warring madness,
Bend our pride to Thy control;
Shame our wanton, selfish gladness,
Rich in things and poor in soul.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
Lest we miss Thy Kingdom's goal,
Lest we miss Thy Kingdom's goal.

Set our feet on lofty places;
Gird our lives that they may be
Armored with all Christ-like graces
In the fight to set men free.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
That we fail not man nor Thee,
That we fail not man nor Thee!

Save us from weak resignation
To the evils we deplore;
Let the search for Thy salvation
Be our glory evermore.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
Serving Thee whom we adore,
Serving Thee whom we adore. Amen.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON .... BISHOP HAZEN G. WERNER

Bishop of the Ohio Area of the Methodist Church

"The Word Is Integrity"

BENEDICTION .... THE REVEREND VAN NESS CHAPPELL

RECESSIONAL HYMN: "Lead On, O King Eternal" .... Smart

(Congregation standing)

Lead on, O King Eternal, The day of march has come;
Henceforth in fields of conquest Thy tents shall be our home;
Thro' days of preparation Thy grace has made us strong,
And now, O King Eternal, We lift our battle song.

Lead on, O King Eternal, Till sin's fierce war shall cease,
And Holiness shall whisper the sweet Amen of peace;
For not with swords loud clashing, Nor roll of stirring drums;
With deeds of love and mercy, Thy heav'nly kingdom comes.

Lead on, O King Eternal; We follow, not with fears,
For gladness breaks like morning Wher-e'er Thy face appears;
Thy cross is lifted o'er us; We journey in its light;
The crown awaits the conquest; Lead on, O God of Might. Amen.

Commencement Exercises

Monday evening, June eighth

Nineteen hundred fifty-nine

College Campus

FIRST OF ALL, this examination is concerned with what you have learned up to this time. Some of the questions deal with things you have learned in school, while others are concerned with things you have learned through everyday living.....so you see,

- - - IT REALLY WON'T HELP TO "CRAM." - - -

Perhaps this statement will be clearer if we tell you something about the tests in the examination. The first one you will take is sometimes called a psychological test, or a test of general ability. Some of the questions ask about the meaning of certain words, others ask you to give the answers to arithmetic problems, while still others ask you to compare diagrams. It would be extremely difficult to prepare for questions of this kind, don't you think?

The second test you will take is a reading test. You will be asked to read some materials and then answer questions about them. This test will help YOU find out how fast YOU can read and how well YOU understand what YOU read. Since reading is something we all do everyday, you just can't expect to improve your score by "cramming" for this test.

The third test you will take -- and the last one in the morning session -- is on mathematics. Some of the questions will go back to very easy arithmetic that you learned in the second or third grade, and some of them will be so hard that you probably can't answer them. In order to be at all certain that you could improve your score on this test, you would have to review all the mathematics you have ever studied -- something you cannot hope to do before you take the examination.....AND IT ISN'T EVEN IMPORTANT THAT YOU TRY TO DO SO! This test will show YOU the kinds of arithmetic problems YOU can handle at this time.....not all the kinds you could do if you had unlimited training.

The same is true for the tests in science and social studies, which you will take in the afternoon. You certainly will find some of the questions very easy -- either because you learned them in school or because you have had some other opportunity to learn about them -- but you probably won't know the answer to every question.....BUT DON'T LET THIS BOTHER YOU.....most tests of this kind are set up so that no one will know all the answers and so that almost no one will even have time to try to answer all of them.

AND SO YOU SEE,

IT REALLY WON'T HELP YOU

TO "CRAM" FOR THIS EXAMINATION!

One thing we think you will like about this examination is that you won't have to write out your answers. Before each of the tests, the person who is administering the tests will give you a booklet, which contains the questions, and an answer sheet, on which you are to record your answers to the questions. NOTHING is to be written in the booklet. Before you start the test, you will be asked to put your name and certain other information on the answer sheets, so that there will be no possibility of your test papers being confused with those of another applicant.

IN EACH OF THE TESTS, YOU WILL HAVE THREE JOBS.....

FIRST, you will have to read each question carefully and decide which ONE of the four or five choices gives the BEST answer to the question.

SECOND, you will have to locate on your answer sheet the number of the question and the space corresponding to the answer you have chosen.

THIRD, with the special pencil the examiner will give you, you will make a HEAVY, BLACK MARK between the pair of lines to show that this is the answer which you think is best for this question.

YOU are to mark only ONE ANSWER to each question.....if you mark more than one of the choices, you will get no credit for the question.

YOU also want to be certain that you make no other marks on the part of the answer sheets on which you put your answers -- if you do, it may lower your score!

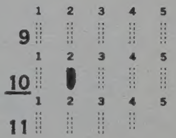
Here is an example of the kind of question you will be asked, and the way you should mark your answer on the answer sheet:

10. How many pencils can you buy for 50¢ at the rate of 2 for 5¢?

(1) 10
(2) 20
(3) 25
(4) 100
(5) 200

The answer to this question is "20," which is answer "2".....

So, you should place A HEAVY, BLACK, GLOSSY MARK on your answer sheet between the pair of lines below the number "2" for question 10.



The last part of this examination consists of a series of questions about the kinds of activities you enjoy, the things you particularly liked about high school, your plans for the future,....and a number of other questions which we hope that you and your counselor will find helpful in making your future educational and vocational plans.

There is only one thing you must bring to the examination --

YOUR ADMISSION CARD

You should not bring --

BOOKS PENCILS NOTES

JUST BRING YOUR ADMISSION CARD TO THE PLACE INDICATED ON THE CARD AND BE READY TO START WORK PROMPTLY AT 9:00 A.M.

THERE IS JUST ONE MORE THING WE'D LIKE TO SAY:

Try to get a good night's sleep the night before the examination, so you will

LOOK YOUR BEST!!!

FEEL YOUR BEST!!!

DO YOUR BEST!!!

The school to which you are applying has asked that you take the NLN Pre-Nursing and Guidance Examination in order to aid its faculty in helping YOU make the educational plans which are best suited to YOUR SKILLS AND ABILITIES.

You are probably wondering.........
- WHAT this examination is like?????
- WHAT kinds of questions you will be asked???
- HOW MUCH time you will have to answer the questions?????
- HOW you will give your answers?????

We hope that the following information will answer most of your questions. If, however, you still have some questions after you finish reading this folder, please write to us about them at:

Miss Ruth Tupas waves goodbye to friends who gathered Friday morning at Dress Memorial Airport to give her a surprise sendoff on her return to her home, Iloilo on the island of Panay in the Philippines. Miss Tupas has been in the United States for seven years. For three years she attended Temple University in Philadelphia. During the past four years she has completed a course and graduated from Evansville College School of Nursing. Looking on as she waves are Mrs. E. D. Harmon, 2030 N. Red Bank, and Miss Naomi Pitcock, 803 S. Riverside, a former classmate of Miss Tupas from EC. Mrs. Harmon and her husband acted as Miss Tupas' sponsors during her nursing work at the college. On her return to the Philippines Miss Tupas, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Felix Tupas, plans to do missionary work. Her father is a Baptist minister there. The fare for her trip home was presented to her by the First Baptist Church.

Valentine Day 1961

An appropriate day for a message from your former leader:

I know this comes as a surprise--for me to finally "take pen in hand" as the saying goes--not literally in this instance. Good intensions really accomplish very little, but I have had them regardless of evidence to the contrary. I heard from quite a few of you around Christmas and the pleasure of hearing from you was accompanied by the realization that some of you were as out of touch as I had been--so it seemed time to circulate the bits of information I've picked up. I'll make no effort to distinguish fact and fiction--so, if there are errors in my "reporting", it will be up to you to inform us differently.

You seem to have scattered to the four winds and it appears that many of you have been doing some post-graduate work in Obstetrics. My only complaint is that so few of you plan your deliveries (time and place) to help the still deficient census here at Baptist where I still try to teach Obstetric Nursing without obstetric patients. I am not unfair in giving credit where due in this regard and, if uncontrollable factors interfere with well made plans, due credit is given for effort. In appreciation for the fact that she did try--my first E for effort goes to Mary Eskew Timmons. She really did give it the old college try--carefully planned for her baby to be born during the winter quarter and then returned from her home in California to deliver here. The fact that Michelle Marie was born on Dec. 31st while all the students were home for Christmas is a little sign that Mary might not have done as much for the cause as possible--but the fact that she chose a time to deliver that must have interfered slightly with the usual New Year's Eve activities indicates to me that Mary had very little alternative but to do it at that time. So, you see, I'm not unreasonable and am only slightly critical of bad timing. Let's be fair--at the rate all of you seem to be contributing to the population explosion problem, it only seems right for me to expect a new crop of students to see a delivery or two--or isn't it?

In regard to your group reproduction activities my incomplete (I'm sure) count is six underfoot and three more underway--the underways are more difficult to keep track of than the underfoots. Those on my "bird in the hand" column are Dreier, Eskew, Ferguson, McClure, Milligan and Smith. There is really no way of knowing how many additions to this list are already underway. Surely Sandra Graper has moved into the delivered column but I have not heard any news. Carolyn Freeman is due in March and Margie Smith is just starting her second round. Now that should take care of the reproduction report.

My report on local news will be brief--just living in a situation has a tendency to make it unnewsworthy to me. I'm sure you have all received word of our accreditation. This achievement gave me the opportunity to use a card that was beginning to yellow with age. For the past 2-3 years my official trademark has been the popular sketch of the two stretched out, with feet on desk, saying, "Next week we just have to get organized"--and, finally, with accreditation I used my long saved jewel saying, "Now that we'er organized--What in the H___ do we do next?" Miss Boeke says it is one of her favorite congradulatory messages--and this brings a rather rare distinction on old Doghouse Dorothy!

There are more "new" faces than "old ones on our faculty (I realize the comments this statement will evoke--but, if you only knew the whole truth, it might cause hysteria). I think Helen Smith, Harriett Pickett and I are the only leftovers--and, with the old blood this threesome personifies, new blood was an absolute must.

Miss Jane Sherrett is our Pediatric instructor and I mention her first because she was such a welcome sight to yours truly. She'd have been a welcome sight had she appeared with two heads. After my one experience trying to ride that Pediatric merry-go-round I'd have welcomed Dracula's daughter! If you don't believe it--just stop and think how much I know about Pediatrics and try to picture me teaching (?) it--mercy.

Mrs. Helen Jean is the long awaited Public Health Coordinator--and is a typical Public Health Nurse. I don't know why Public Health Nurses always act as if PH is the greatest and only important field in nursing. Any rational person will admit OB is way over and above any other area in interest and importance. (I just can't stand people who act as if their particular specialty is more important than anyone else's--can you?) But--seriously--with Mrs. Jean here our PHN experience has been increased to a full quarter and the girls go out alone from the first week. They have time off for classes, regular college vacations and seem to enjoy it more (or, at least, endure it better) than before. I guess most of you know Miss Quigley--pardon me, Col. Quigley--went to Pakistan with the World Health Organization. Miss Rupurtis is temporary acting director.

Miss Sue Roberts is teaching Psychiatric Nursing in Barbara's place. I don't know Sue very well but she seems to have a less devout attitude toward this whole bit than Barbara had. Barbara is living in Santa Clara, California and teaching in a basic degree program there. Her letters are full of questions about people and things here so she must not be completely transplanted as yet. She does seem to enjoy it out there and tries to spread California fever (which is impossible since I'm a stubborn Hoosier).

Mrs. Lois Latshaw, who was Director of Nursing Service at Deaconess Hospital while you were here in school, is the Medical/Surgical Nursing assistant. She's an awfully nice gal--different, but real likable and nice. The students are all very fond of her and that's usually a pretty good sign. She'll be leaving next year to do her graduate work and we'll really miss her while she is away.

The only new person in our compatable little group came under such adverse conditions that we all try to ignor her presence--Mrs. Reese (she was Lucille Gooch's fair haired girl all the while you were here--and I use that term "girl" with malice of forethought)--anyway, she came over as school secretary to replace Mrs. Tevault. Losing Mrs. Tevault was a blow to us all--and since this was the desired effect of Mr. Lackey's plan--it succeeded. She was told she would be transfered to the hospital as floating ward clerk and, of course, she resigned. I guess his majesty had left us unmolested for a while and decided it was time to remind us of his importance. But--let us not be bitter.

There is a new addition to the hospital--G_4. This is an extension around from Pediatrics--above D3. They opened about 2 weeks ago and Jo Ann Franz is head nurse.

As for news regarding what's going on with you, my information is scant--I tried to get my address list current and will pass it along with the bits of news I do have--

Curtis--3031 Edwin Ave. Apt. 2-F Fort Lee, New Jersey	Vonda was home last fall but I didn't get to see her. She's still living with Sally and from all reports they are both having themselves a time--living it up in the oft refered to "east".
Dreier--Mrs. Oscar Duncan 148 North Ave. Jacksonville, Arkansas	Had an announcement from Sharon when her baby was born and intended to drop her a note at that time--but you know how that

Eskew--Mrs. Donald Timmons
11821 W. Jefferson Blvd.
Culver City, California

Since Mary did what she did I think I gave her previous billing in this little piece.

Ferguson--Mrs. Jerry Fitch

I don't know about an address for Marlice--they are living at 223 Date Ave. Imperial Beach, California at present but are to leave for a three year tour of duty in Hawaii this month. Until we know an address you can always write in care of her mother and I'm sure mail will be forwarded--that's Mrs. Dallas Ferguson, RR # 2, Oakland City, Indiana. Marlice was down for a visit last fall and brought Kelvin--it was real good to see them both. In her last letter she said Kelvin had some asthma difficulties and they would be glad to move out of the southern California climate. I think it would be nice for us to plan a little re-union during the next three years--we could just all happen to drop in on the Fitch family at the same time-- and we could all learn to hula with Ann.

Freeman--Mrs. Lynn Champion
137 North Sandusky
Delaware, Ohio

I had a letter from Carolyn just after Christmas and she says they will probably be in Delaware for the next couple of years while Lynn attends the seminary there. She is expecting her baby in March. She had been to Pitcock's wedding and said Naomi was a beautiful bride--since at least three different sources said the same thing I guess we'll have to believe it no matter how improbable it seems.

(I have a confession to insert at this point--I missed Naomi' wedding by a mere 24 hours and she didn't even wait for me--had the wrong day in mind somehow--was dressed ready to leave the house when I noticed a write up of the wedding as I was thumbing through the paper as I drank my coffee--so I didn't actually go--but just as traumatic, I did already have my hat on! Guess I've been with Mildred too long)

Gaines--Mrs. Robert Graper
3320 East 39th St. Apt. 441
Indianapolis 5, Indiana

I had a Christmas card from Sandra but, as I've already mentioned, have had no word whether or not she has delivered.

Little--Mrs. C. V. Storey
Carmi, Illinois

Haven't heard anything from Sharon and have not seen her since her wedding.

McClure--Mrs. Lawrence Cunningham
% Mr. Lawrence McClure
RR # 1
Vincennes, Indiana

After mailing Nancy's Christmas card to her folks in Vincennes hoping they would send it to her in Japan, I had a letter from Nancy saying she was with her folks and had been for over a year. Her husband is due back in March or April and they plan to move to Bar Harbour, Maine where he will work with his father who owns a hotel and restaurant. She's working at Good Samaritan Hospital in Vincennes. Her baby, Jeff, is walking--red headed--blue eyed and full of the old nick (anybody surprised?) Nancy had been to Naomi's wedding and was the second source of my information on her appearance.

Miller--Nurses Cottage #1
Veterans Administration Center
4100 West Third Street
Dayton, Ohio

I haven't heard from Mattie and this address came as a complete surprise to me. When she was working here I'd see her occasionally and had the impression she was leaving here to work in Tennessee.

Milligan--Mrs. James Casper 665 W. Oak Street Zionville, Indiana	Had a real nice note from Vera on her card. Sounds like she is a proud mother--says her boy is the happiest, best-natured baby anyone could have. Her husband is planning to go to school next September. She had heard from Ruth Tupas and said she thought Ruth was fairly well re-adjusted to life in the Philippines--but that she missed chocolate and chewing gum--needless to say, Vera and Jim sent the missed items.
Mohr--Mrs. Gary Ahrens 401 E. Sixth Street Jasper, Indiana	I haven't even seen Cornelia at any of the basketball games this year--hope she hasn't given them up.
Phelps--Nursing Education Anna State Hospital Anna, Illinois	Big news: Janice says Naomi was a beautiful bride. Janice was here in the hospital as a patient a couple of times last year--I heard after she had been discharged. If there has to be a next time I hope I hear about it before she goes home.
Pitcock--Mrs. Robert Werne Box 26 Bloomfield, Indiana	Naomi says that their moving to Bloomfield brought the population up to 2002--all friends of Dr. John Combs.
Putnam--404 W. Eighth St. Apt. 3 Hays, Kansas	Nancy is teaching in the Medical/Surgical program at Fort Hays Kansas State College. She says she has finally found a use for her Home Nursing classes--has to help teach it now. Seems to be enjoying her work very much.
Smith--Mrs. Donald Smith Darmstadt Road Evansville, Indiana	Margie is the only of your whole group I see anymore. She works about one day a week on O.B. She was certainly a big help in getting addresses for everyone--we often compare notes in an effort to catch up on what everyone is doing--trouble is, when we hear any news we usually both hear it at about the same time.
Stanton--Mrs. Michael R. Jefferson I A H - 3A Ft. Knox, Kentucky	Had a card from Ann and she was one of my reasons for feeling some of you must be losing touch with one another--she asked for Sandra's address and I felt like this was indication enough to necessitate action.
Tupas--Bethany Hospital Tacloban, Leyte Philippines	I haven't heard directly from Ruth for some time--but must admit I have not been deserving of any word. From her early letters I know she had found some of the re-adjustment difficult and was glad to hear Vera's feeling that this had been fairly well accomplished. From comments after someone around here does hear from Ruth I know she doesn't have a dull moment and is rendering a real service to her people.

Waldkoetter--3031 Edwin Ave. Apt. 2F
Fort Lee, New Jersey

Sally was down with Marlice for a visit last fall--she said she was learning a lot, but, then, we all know she had a lot to learn. Seriously, I hear via the grapevine that she has received a promotion and is so devoted to her job that when the big snow came she walked to work. Now I call that over and above the line of duty.

Mercy, I almost forgot to mention the Aces--perhaps this is just a good example of repression. I put it quite mildly when I say they have not done well--but they will never be able to say I was a fair weather friend--I have been as loyal as I was when they seemed to have some idea of what the game was they were playing. It has been a struggle to maintain any compassion for them as they vary from the sublime to the ridiculous and can make the switch in a bat of an eye.

Now I think I've really reached the limit of my meager supply of facts and fantasies. It was nice hearing from so many of you and hope this makes you stop for a minute and remember the good times you did have--I tried to tell you a long time ago that you'd remember the fun and forget the irritations and I hope my forecast was correct. Just thinking of you again brought forth one or two (maybe more) little reactions I would have had trouble explaining had candid camera caught me. I might even say I miss you--that is, it's bad for the ego to be a dethroned leader.

Hi - Seems rather foolish to send you & Vonda the same thing - but that's not the only foolish thing I've ever done! Sounds like you've had a "swell" winter - I'm afraid that one or two storms like that would cure "eastern fever" for me!

Hi Sally & Judy,

I'm so glad to know we will be getting to-gether again this summer at your new Beachview Estates.

I've waited to reply till I'm sure how many will be able to be there - & I still am not sure.

I know Milt & I and Bobbie will be but my kids in North Carolina won't be able to get back since they were here in March.

So it is just Jill's family (5) And Jack that possibly will be coming. I'll try to let you know definitely about them by July 4th.

Looking forward to a great day of eating & visiting.

We will make arrangements to stay at a motel in Scottsburg or Seymore -

Your Cousin
Maude.

Dear Sally,

I received your letter last week. I better answer it now or you may not hear for some time. Oh, Sally, just 28 more and Jerry will be home. I feel like I have spent a life time alone on a lonely island. I'm, so anxious in some ways and then again for the first time in our marriage I'm afraid. In six months two people can sure change a great deal. I know I have changed. This is the first time we have ever been separated this long. Well - we'll just see how adult we are and if we can fall into the family routine again.

This sure was my week for letters. I received a nice long letter from Carolyn Champion. of all people. I sure didn't expect to hear from her. But it was good to hear. She didn't know any news either.

Say, are you serious about coming to see us. I've got your bed all fixed. We put a twin bed in our spare bedroom and made a den out of it. I have covered the bed like a couch. I plan to get bolsters for it, but haven't yet. We have the TV in the den. This sure saves my living room.

I'm trying to teach Kevin to play in his room or Den. But he likes to play in the bath room. This son of mine has got to go. He is so funny at times and other times I could hang him. I'm teaching him to use his spoon now. We tried earlier but he gave up. Now he is doing better. He has mastered the cup. I gave him beets today and he had them all over him. He had to have a bath after his lunch. He loves to play out side but I can't let him out with out me. Now when he gets out he just starts running. I don't blame him. I hope we can put up a fence of some kind so Kevin and Duke can run loose.

That was so nice that your mother and Daddy came to see you. I know they enjoyed it so much. I know you must enjoyed having them. Now they will have to come see their other daughter, me! That would be so nice if you all three could come out here.

What is your mother doing about her eyes? Is she going to another doctor? Does she know what will happen? How is she doing with the diabetis other wise?

Oh, Sally, I forgot Dorothy's birthday also. I'll get a letter out to her before Jerry gets home.

You and my mother are just alike in ways. She always closes her letters like you did, "Need anything?"

Thank you anyway - but right I'm fine just waiting for my Honey to return home.

My folks are fine. Both working hard. Daddy has been busy refinishing some antique furniture for mother. Her latest is an old fashion high chair. She says she believes ~~[illegible]~~ we will need it by the time we get home. Maurice says no telling how many kids will have by then. Ha Ha.

Sounds like you are really busy. That sure isn't good that you have to work 9-12 hours straight. You should have more help. Do they expect this type work from you. Now, look, you take care of your self.

Is there anything you need or would like to have?

Bye for now.
Love

To Daughter
on Her Graduation

Congratulations

It's hard to realize how fast
The years have all gone by,
It doesn't seem like any time
Since you were just "SO-HIGH"--
And now that
you are all grown-up
And graduating, too,
This comes with love
to wish life's best
And happiest things for you.

Hello,

Christmas time has come once again. It is the one time during the year when we find our mail boxes filled with messages from friends often thought of, but seldom seen. I think that all could confess to a bit of enthusiasm for even the slightest note from these friends.

I must excuse myself for sending a form letter but the time factor has become a precious element in my life since June.

I am on leave from Columbia in an attempt to further my education, and to obtain a Master of Science Degree in Nursing Education.

School began June 20th here on the Indiana University campus and here I will remain (hopefully) until January 28, 1966.

The first of February I will be on the campus at Indianapolis getting just a wealth of pediatric experiences!

If all goes well, June 13th at 10:00 AM, I will join that solemn procession with fellow sufferers for the tassel turning event.

School has been quite an experience, one which I will long remember. Along with hard work are the joys of new friendships. We have students from many nations and I find the conversations about their countries, customs, and ideas an education over and above the classroom activities.

Next Christmas, God willing, I will be back in New York. Until then, may your Christmas and the New Year be filled with happiness and joy.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

A bit of mistletoe for love,
A precious touch of holly,
And then some lovely winter's snow
To make the season jolly;
A Christmas tree all wondrous fair,
A star to shine above,
And then a heart that knows the joy
Of wondrous Christmas love.
These are my Christmas hopes for you
For precious dreams unending,
A happy smile to warm your heart,
The season's best I'm sending;
Life's richest blessings evermore
In all you chance to do,
A Merry, Merry Christmas and
A Happy New Year, too!

Sincerely,

Sally

WORKING PAPER

December 1981

In an effort to understand the self, it is important to look at what has happened in the early years of life. This effort should not be Freudian in nature in that one can place the blame for perceived failures rather, it is an opportunity to examine why various behavior patterns have been established and to more carefully conclude which parts of the self need work to become that person with whom we can be comfortable in all stations of life.

Earlier in this quarter we were asked to draw our tombstones, including the message to be carved on it. I recall "Free at Last" as one phrase that I had selected. At the time, this phrase was merely related to escape from uncomfortable life situations of the past and present. As the quarter progressed I have come to realize that I am both the prisoner and the jailer of my life style and if I am ever to be "free", that only I can commute my sentence.

As a starting point, I begin by describing, as best that I can, the lives of my parents and their expectations of me (my perceptions).

Grace was born in a small town, the fourth child in a family of ten children. Her Father was the decision maker and breadwinner of the family while the homemaker chores and child rearing were left to her Mother; the typical sterotypic roles of the times. For additional money to feed and clothe the family, her Mother did washing and ironing for other families.

The kinship network, as described by Stack (1974), was prevalent in this small town with one major exception, most residents were actual blood kin. Pride and importance was shown in how persons were related to each other and how many persons you could claim as relatives.

The family was the focal point for sharing successes and failures, joys and sorrows, and for learning social and work skills. When one family member was in trouble or needed help, others were there to provide it.

Although Grace's family did not farm or even grow their own vegetables, the number of children that the family had was important. The general philosophy was that there was always room for one more and that children were a blessing rather than a hardship.

Education was valued for the boys in the family but all of the girls, except the youngest, were allowed to stop their education even before completing the eighth grade. Most of the girls married early, but Grace left home to work in a shirt factory twenty miles from home to help support the younger children and to provide the brothers, who were by then attending high school, with the appropriate clothing and enough money to date.

Even through the depression years Grace was able to find work and to support herself as well as to contribute or share with her family. In her early twenties she moved to a town twenty miles north of her home town where she was once again employed by a shirt factory. It was here that she met and later married Harry.

Harry, by contrast, was the third child in a family of six children. His grandparents were German immigrants who settled in a small German farm community and this was where his parents met, married and raised their family.

From what I can surmise, the old German work ethic, a stoic attitude toward life events with little emotionalism, and THE CHURCH were valued by the family and passed from generation to generation. The accumulation of wealth was not a primary goal rather, being able to support your own and NEVER to ask for help. The church was the core of life; services on Sunday and mid-week, parochial school and social activities sponsored by the church. Very few contacts were make with persons outside of the church community and then, only when absolutely necessary.

The children in Harry's family were expected to work on the farm from early childhood until they were ten to twelve years of age and then they were "hired out" as well as working at home. At twelve, he shoveled gravel for fifty cents a day when the crops were not being planted or harvested. Monies earned were given th his Father for additional family needs.

His Father was the master of all--a true patriarch. He made all of the decisions for the family members, handled all of the finances, disciplined the children and expected his wife to keep the household running properly.

His Mother cooked five meals per day; mid-morning and mid-afternoon meals were carried to the fields during crop times. In addition, she baked all of their bread, sweets, sewed, washed, ironed, kept the house meticulously clean (German tradition), canned enormous amounts of fruits and vegetables, jellies, jams and preserved all of their meats either by canning them or hanging them in the smokehouse.

The children were expected to work hard, to be obedient, to express little emotion and in general to be seen and not heard. In spite of this seemingly oppressive environment, I get the impression that they were a happy family and the Mother is remembered with great love.

Education was not considered important and less so when the government prohibited the parochial school from teaching everything in German to no German at all. At the end of the eighth grade, Harry's education in the formal school environment came to a close.

When Harry was twenty-one and still living at home, his Mother died suddenly and within three months his Father remarried. All of the children who were left at home were forced to leave. Harry and his sixteen year old brother moved to the city to live with an Aunt for a short time and then moved to an apartment of their own. The farmer became a factory worker!

Harry and Grace met at a dance when they were both twenty-six. Both had their own apartments and what were considered good jobs at the time. In spite of the horrors of the depression years, they were never without jobs. After several months of dating, they decided to marry.

One year and two months later their first child arrived, six weeks late by their calculations (seems like I had trouble making decisions even at this young age). Due to the lack of facilities in the area, the child was born at home but under the supervision of a physician. Both Grace and Harry were pleased with the arrival of their first child and due to the circumstances, were certainly able to have early bonding with their child. (It seems so strange to follow the trends in our society. What was considered something that folks who were poor did carried a certain stigma in those days and now it seems almost fashionable for the educated and the elite of our society.)

During the following three years, the newly established family moved out of state so that Harry could continue working for the same company. Grace did not return to the work force because it was unheard of to leave a child with a sitter. Their lives were complicated by moving away from her closely knit family, their friends, and more important, the loss of three pregnancies. The second pregnancy was delivered at term but was a "still birth", the next two were terminated at a much earlier stage, cause unknown.

In a few years the family was able to purchase their first home and to have space for a garden. This would not have been possible without the work efforts of Harry and the budgeting talents of Grace. She was able to save enough money to but a sewing machine and to put her talents to work sewing all of her own clothing, that of her young child and at times earn a little extra sewing for others. Although she had no experience canning, she soon learned what to do with all of the vegetables that her farmer husband produced in his garden.

Though the couple differed in their religious preference, they came to an agreement and became very active in their church. Once again, as in Harry's childhood, the church became the focal point of their lives. They were active in all church events and formed new social relationships as well.

These times were happy for the couple in spite of a continuation of the loss of pregnancies. Their dream of having a large family did not come true and each of them wondered why. At times they questioned their own sexuality and carried a strong sense of guilt and disappointment. Their strong love for each other and their one child held them together through these difficult times, as well as their faith and the support of their friends and Grace's family. By this time they had one living child, one stillborn child and SIX pregnancies that had never come to term. Their grief, though subtle, became more pronounced in later years.

When they reached their late thirties, Harry's only close relative died during the polio epidemic. This seemed to be the breaking point as far as being able to hold in all of his emotions. He became ill and was no longer to continue his factory work. They decided to buy a small farm in Grace's home town. The small home that they had worked so hard to improve, good friends and their church were left behind only to be replaced by a lonely life in the country and a new house in much worse condition than their first had been when they bought it. This was further complicated by the necessity of living with relatives for the first year and addition to Harry's original health problems, he lost an eye in a job related accident.

Grace probably had the most difficult adjustments to make. She had never learned to drive and this limited her activities; her days were spent alone since her husband and child were away during the day. There was no telephone, television or neighbors for company. Slowly she became more bitter about her life situation and felt unable to change it. The final blow came at forty-one when she carried another infant, the last, to term; unfortunately their son died in utero one week before birth.

The final blow came at forty-one when she carried another infant, the last, to term; unfortunately their son died in utero one week before birth.

The one living child became their last hope of fulfilling their own dreams. Each had hoped to have at least a high school education, a job that paid the minimum wage and to have enough money so thay they did not have to budget quite so carefully.

Life remained fairly unchanged for the next ten to twenty years. Grace did start to work at a part-time job in a local grocery owned by relatives. The job offered an opportunity for socializing and also building of self-esteem. She became known as the local "expert" on seeds, plants and bulbs and was often sought after for consultation by local and distant gardeners. She found it stimulating work until her health began to fail.

One major source of joy happened during this stage of their lives; their child graduated from high school and college. Although they did not feel that they had measured up with relatives in terms of number of children, their child was the first in both families to have a college education.

The dream of having grandchildren was never fulfilled. At some point they seemed to give up all of their old dreams and to start their lives over again. They sold the farm and moved into town where Grace once again had neighbors and had a measure of happiness. It lasted exactly one year; she died on the day they purchased their new home the previous year.

Harry continues to live in a life style matching that of his early years; working in his yard, garden and house. His philosophy is that you have only so many years to live, so you keep on working until you die and try to live a good, clean life! He takes excellent care of Grace's grave with mowing, planting new grass each year, putting a fence around it so the caretakers will not injure the new seeds or the tombstone.

Kohn(1977) would probably explain my condition of life in terms of the effects of social structure on behavior. My family could be classified as

Kohn(1977) would probably explain my condition of life in terms of the effects of social structure on behavior. My family could be classified as lower middle class, white, protestant with a strong work ethic. For as long as I can remember, our lives were dominated and controlled by the teachings of the church. Most of our social functions were either centered in the church or Mother's family.

Since I was the only living child, I feel that my parents tended to be overprotective and at the same time overly demanding . The conditions for acceptance and love within the immedicate family were:

1. always obey parents
2. never argue or show displeasure
3. respect elders and other authority figures
4. never give in to illness
5. never question or doubt
6. be generous and kind to others
7. work before pleasure

Failure to comply with these unwritten rules was me with discipline, punishment and rejection.

In many ways, early childhood was less difficult and the tasks identified by the developmentalists were relatively easy to achieve with the major exception of the growth of self. It was possible to move through the ages and stages of Erikson, Havighurst and Kohlberg as mere extensions of parents and little development of a new or unique individual.

Satir's(1972) list of ways that we tend to threaten ourselves to thwart rejection and become a "leveler" reflect my approach to life even though I can intellectualize as to how I "should" act/react.

1. I might make a mistake.
2. Someone might not like it.
3. Someone will criticize me.
4. I might impose.
5. He will think I am no good.
6. I might be thought of as imperfect.
7. He/she might leave.

There is a serious danger in the adaptation of these governers of life and I can see so see so much of how I tend to act/react in them. I can, at this stage in my life, also understand why they are so much a part of my behavior and recognize the need for change. Physical and mental growth in absence of self growth could be compared to being as compared to living as a computer or robot. The chances of peak experiences or self-actualization are slim when life is controlled by the "shoulds" and "oughts" of life.

I have given a great deal of thought to the origin of my attitudes toward myself and life in general and how these change or can be changed. Faith and religion remain important in my life but the most important and perhaps least emphasized Biblical verse is Leviticus 19:18; "Thou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself: I am the Lord." I have always tried to love my neighbor but with this new found emphasis on self, I question how well I have really done with the former. I do not think that the Lord intended for us to be totally egocentric, rather that this verse could be considered the forerunner of humanistic psychology and the stress on knowing oneself to better know and perhaps even love another; acceptance.

> "You, yourself, have got to see that there is no just interpretation of life except in terms of life's best things. No pleasure philosophy, no sensuality, no place nor power, no material success can for a moment give such inner satisfaction as the sense of living for good purposes, for maintenance of integrity, for the preservation of self-approval."
> Minot Simons (Forbes 1968)

I think that Simons is saying what we have heard from Rogers and Maslow; living of life begins with self both in terms of understanding and accepting who we are and further, to change the things about ourselves that we find uncomfortable and distressing. It is up to each of us to be who we are.

You asked for a working paper, so now I will turn to the work that I perceive necessary to accomplish the task of being me.

I think that Simons is saying what we have heard from Rogers and Maslow: living of life begins with self both in terms of understanding and accepting who we are and further, to change the things about ourselves that we find uncomfortable and distressing. It is up to each of us to be who we are.

You asked for a working paper, so now I will turn to the work that I perceive necessary to accomplish the task of being me.

Who am I? I am bits and pieces of those who have touched my life at one time or another in a psychological and social way and in the physical sense, I am uniquely composed of genes from generations of family members.

At times I feel as though I have multiple personalities; a child who acts a certain way with parents, another personality for aunts and uncles, a "house-mate", a nursing instructor , a co-worker, and a church member. As I grow older, I have grown to appreciate Shakespeare's view; "Life is but a stage....." and to accept the fact that I really am no different from other members of the human race in that respect.

It seems that I have not taken the "time to smell the roses" in my life or to enjoy what should have been peak experiences for me. I was always pushing on to the next experience of my life. The question that I often ask myself is "Why?"--for my parents or for me. In fact, I have pushed myself for the sake of my parents because I felt that I needed to make up for their losses in life; no opportunity for an education, hard work for most of their lives limiting opportunities to explore their world, and of course, the expectation of a large family of their own. I am not declaring sainthood for myself and I probably would do the same things over again but I do believe that I have fulfilled most of my obligations and at this point in my life, I must make some decisions for my own well-being. I have allowed my concern for parents permeate my relationships with friends and in the workplace. What has happened is that I now recognize some of my feelings and reactions to be the result of pent up anger and hostility toward myself and a continuation of living as someone I do not wish to be.

Answering the question "Who am I?" goes well beyond nouns and adjectives; it goes to the heart and soul of a person. I agree with Maslow's concept of a holistic approach and until I can get things sorted out in my own life I will not be able to declare "FREE AT LAST"!

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Dear Sir:

I enclose the form of oath or affirmation called for by the State Education Department, in compliance with the provisions of the Laws of 1947, Chapter 820.

Under the terms of that Act (see other side), it is unlawful for any citizen of the United States to serve as teacher, instructor or professor in the University unless he or she shall have taken this oath; and it is also unlawful for the Trustees to permit a person to serve in any such capacity in the University who has not done so.

The Act provides that the oath may be administered only by a Trustee, but the State Department has ruled that when it is not feasible to appear before a Trustee the affiant may make his oath before a notary public. For purposes of this oath the State does not recognize the signature of any University officer, only that of a Trustee or a notary public. Several notaries public are available in the University buildings. Please execute the form which I enclose and return it, notarized, to this office for record instead of sending it direct to Albany as the directions on the back might suggest.

If you are an alien or not giving instructions to students, please give written notification of that fact in order that the record may be clear.

Very truly yours,

Edward B. McMenamin

(title of position and name or designation of school, college, university or institution to be here inserted), to which I am now assigned."
> The oath required by this section shall be administered by the president or other head of such school, college, university or institution, or by the officer or person, or in the case of a board or body by a member of the board or body, having authority to employ such person as a teacher, instructor, or professor in such school, college, university or institution, and each is hereby authorized to administer it. Waldkoetter's service goes beyond Joe Jackson Hotel

BY NICK HEDRICK
nick@thebanner.com

When Sally Waldkoetter learned she would be included in this year's "Most Influential" issue, she said she didn't deserve the recognition.

She pointed instead to the rest of the committee she chairs to restore the Joe Jackson Hotel in Vallonia.

"Everybody's got a different talent and put them together and that's how we've got things done so far," she said.

It has taken the dedication of all eight people now in the group to clean up the inside of the building and beautify its exterior.

But everything began with Waldkoetter, who formed the committee when the Fort Vallonia Days organization bought the building in 1999.

And yet her service to the community goes far beyond the hotel. Just ask Lu Wolka, a committee member and longtime friend.

"She's just the saint that lives among us," Wolka said.

Wolka said Waldkoetter uses her past experience as a nursing professor to make house calls when people need medical advice or assistance.

As part of her church's funeral committee, Waldkoetter is also known for arranging funeral dinners for local families. Around Christmas time, she bakes

She pointed instead to the rest of the committee she chairs to restore the Joe Jackson Hotel in Vallonia.

"Everybody's got a different talent and put them together and that's how we've got things done so far," she said.

It has taken the dedication of all eight people now in the group to clean up the inside of the building and beautify its exterior.

But everything began with Waldkoetter, who formed the committee when the Fort Vallonia Days organization bought the building in 1999.

And yet her service to the community goes far beyond the hotel. Just ask Lu Wolka, a committee member and longtime friend.

"She's just the saint that lives among us," Wolka said.

Wolka said Waldkoetter uses her past experience as a nursing professor to make house calls when people need medical advice or assistance.

As part of her church's funeral committee, Waldkoetter is also known for arranging funeral dinners for local families. Around Christmas time, she bakes and delivers cookies to 40 people.

"I've never seen so many cookies in someone's house in my life," Wolka said.

Waldkoetter was part of the Banner's coverage of the hotel's centennial celebration this fall. The committee held an evening of music, food and hotel tours 100 years to the day the hotel opened on Sept. 13, 1914.

Moving forward, the committee is now raising money to install a septic system. Waldkoetter said that would cost $20,000 because of the mound system required in the limited space.

"Until we have that, we can't do much with the interior of the building," she said.

Waldkoetter said they were still finalizing details to hire a company for the work.

To donate money for the project, send a check to Joe Jackson Hotel, P.O. Box 5, Vallonia, IN 47281.

Waldkoetter said she hoped the committee would have more drywall donated, as well.

The committee is focused on converting the first floor for community use right now, while putting the finishing touches on the barbershop.

Eventually, Waldkoetter said she'd like to see a barber in the building at least a couple days a week. The original barber chair sits in the Fort Vallonia museum across the street.

She said there were several possibilities for the second floor, where the hotel's rooms were located.

Waldkoetter said she'd like to see new sleeping rooms for the convenience of local residents' guests.

On her side of the county, if someone hosts a large wedding, for instance, she said the only nearest hotel accommodations are in Seymour.

"It would be nice if we could have both," she said.

Other options include office space or a museum annex, but Waldkoetter said nothing had been finalized.

People outside of the area are also taking notice of Waldkoetter's work, particularly with the hotel.

Out of the blue one recent afternoon, Waldkoetter said she received a call from a great-grandson of Joe Jackson, who owned the hotel until it closed in 1954.

The man, who lives in Terre Haute and is named after his ancestor, wanted to bring his children, father and grandfather to visit.

Anyone else who wants a tour can call Waldkoetter at 358-5081.

"I thought it was interesting that they wanted to come visit the hotel," Waldkoetter said.

Meyer humbly accepts praise of police service

BY NICK HEDRICK
nick@thebanner.com

One thing stood out when Jackson County Sheriff's Department officer Rick Meyer spoke to the Banner in May, standing near the giant swinging doors of the Jackson Circuit courtroom.

Meyer had just witnessed Isiah T. Roger—the man accused of shooting him—make his initial appearance in court.

"I guess I don't have any ill feelings toward him," Meyer said.

The Seymour resident took a humble approach to the publicity surrounding the incident and the accolades that followed recognizing his bravery, having returned fire on Roger.

Back on the force since July, Meyer said his night shifts are now business as usual.

"I don't feel like anything's changed since I came back on the force," he said.

The events leading up to the alleged shooting May 8 began when Meyer responded to a report of suspicious people on a bridge in the 5800 block of State Road 39 near Tampico.

Court documents stated that Roger popped out from under the bridge and shot Meyer, striking him in both shoulders.

Roger is scheduled to face trial in March on charges of attempted murder, aggravated battery and carrying a handgun without a license, with a prior felony. A convicted sex offender, Roger was on parole for sexual battery at the time of the shooting.

Before shots were fired, Meyer arrested Roger's friend, Alexandrew Mullikin, who had an outstanding warrant in Jennings County for auto theft and false informing and gave Meyer a fake identity.

Court documents state that Mullikin led Meyer to believe Roger had fled into nearby. Mullikin later told a detective he didn't know Roger was going to shoot Meyer or even had a gun with him, according to the documents.

Meyer said in an interview this month that he briefly debated whether to return to duty.

He said he was more concerned about his wife and children if another shooting happened.

Ultimately, he decided it was best for him to return since law enforcement had been a lifelong career goal.

"It was pretty much an easy decision to end up going back," he said.

On his first night back in the squad car, Meyer responded to a report of suspicious people.

Someone called in a vehicle parked alongside the roadway. When he arrived, Meyer recalled, two people came out of the woods.

Meyer said he found drugs on one of the people, but the encounter ended without incident.

"It's kind of ironic that's how my first day back started," he said.

Brownstown Exchange Club and the David Benton Chapter of Sons of the American Revolution have both publicly recognized Meyer for his service.

As he presented Meyer with a plaque at the exchange club's annual dinner, Sheriff Mike Carothers said Meyer was one of the officers eager to serve his community.

"Well [May 8], Rick almost did give everything," Carothers said in his remarks.

Meyer's humbleness was again on display as he accepted the plaque.

"I really appreciate it," he said during the ceremony. "It's definitely an honor."

Dan Hodge will be working in 2015 to prepare the county for its pre-K pilot program. The program will launch July 1, 2015 and will give low-income families financial assistance to send their child to a certified preschool program.

"This grant will help folks not able to afford preschool to afford that foundation," said Hodge, director of the Jackson County Education Coalition, who was instrumental in securing the grant.

The JCEC bridges education needs and workforce needs in Jackson County. Hodge said all of that starts with a firm foundation. He added JCEC have identified 255 out of 303 4-year-olds in Jackson County who are not being served with preschool education.

State lawmakers crafted the program to serve eligible 4-year-olds from families in five counties. Allen, Lake, Marion and Vanderburgh counties were also selected for the program, administered by the Indiana Family Social Services Administration.

The family's income must not exceed 127 percent of the poverty level and the child must already attend an early education program from a public or charter school, licensed daycare center, home daycare or ministry.

When Jackson County learned in June it was one of 18 finalists for the program, Hodge helped prepare a readiness report to the state. Local public and private schools, United Way agencies and the Child Care Network helped demonstrate the county's ability to meet a financial match and prove current and new providers could participate.

Hodge said the collaboration between local agencies required to make it into the program would also be necessary for implementing it.

"It took a team, a group of people together to get this moving," Hodge said.

Chris Marshall, principal at Crothersville Elementary School, has worked with Hodge through the pre-K pilot program and said Hodge was deserving of being named to The Banner's Most Influential List.

"He's such an advocate for the preschool program," he said. "Dan and I have been in partnership and friendship for the last few years on this."

Marshall said what makes Hodge so admirable to the pre-K program is his understanding of how

Meyer humbly accepts praise of police service

BY NICK HEDRICK
nick@thebanner.com

One thing stood out when Jackson County Sheriff's Department officer Rick Meyer spoke to the Banner in May, standing near the giant swinging doors of the Jackson Circuit courtroom.

Meyer had just witnessed Isiah T. Roger—the man accused of shooting him—make his initial appearance in court.

"I guess I don't have any ill feelings toward out from under the bridge and shot Meyer, striking him in both shoulders.

Roger is scheduled to face trial in March on charges of attempted murder, aggravated battery and carrying a handgun without a license, with a prior felony. A convicted sex offender, Roger was on parole for sexual battery at the time of the shooting.

Before shots were fired, Meyer arrested Roger's friend, Alexandrew Mullikin, who had an outstanding warrant in Jennings County for auto theft and false informing and gave sponded to a report of suspicious people.

Someone called in a vehicle parked alongside the roadway. When he arrived, Meyer recalled, two people came out of the woods.

Meyer said he found drugs on one of the people, but the encounter ended without incident.

"It's kind of ironic that's how my first day back started," he said.

Brownstown Exchange Club and the David Benton Chapter of Sons of the American Revolution have both publicly recognized Meyer for his service.

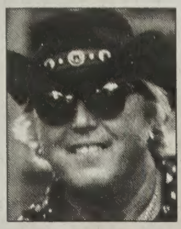
Rick Wilson looks to Bible for inspiration

BY JORDAN RICHART
jrichart@thebanner.com



WILSON

Rick Wilson said he looked for inspiration from the Bible when he set out to make an impact in the community.

"I believe this is what the Bible teaches us to do and what we've been commanded to do," he said.

Wilson has organized for the last four years the Thousand Ten Project, which brings people together in the community to help those in need every September. While the project has become an annual event, the concept to helping those in need spilled over to something more permanent.

Wilson was on a plane back from Miami after working with homeless people and said he was called to do something in Jackson County to help feed the community.

That's when the Alley Street Kitchen was born. The kitchen is organized through The Alley— the church and ministry where Wilson is pastor—and has served hot meals to those who need them every day since March 1, rain or shine.

Wilson said the kitchen is humble, but serving its purpose to help those in need.

"It's nothing spectacular, but we're doing it," he said.

Over 10,000 meals have been served since March, but Wilson still sees a need for feeding those who need it. Wilson said he began to consider the children in the community that only eat at school. The ministry has now started providing transportation for children to come eat at the kitchen.

"We weren't seeing that many children and we knew they were out there so we decided to start getting them here and on the first day we had over 30 children," he said. "That was only from 2 1/2 streets in Seymour."

Wilson has sought help from 11 school bus drivers in the Seymour Community School Corporation to help provide transportation. The kitchen has a 15 passenger van and recently acquired a bus for drivers to pick the children up.

Wilson said he owes it all to God and that the work is nothing heroic, but what Christians should be doing anyway.

"It's what we're supposed to do," he said. "The disciples made it very clear."

Joyce Southerland, volunteer coordinator for the Alley Street Kitchen and treasurer of The Alley, said she is amazed at Wilson's honesty and determination to help those in need. She said Wilson has always been up front about his past of drug and alcohol addiction and she said his honesty has won respect of many.

"I think he wins everyone's respect and trust," she said. "He doesn't try to hide away from any of it."

Southerland said she and other church members are always open to Wilson's ideas and said they were open when he proposed they start a food ministry.

"It was a vision God gave him," she said. "We felt Rick has a true relationship with the Lord and we have always been open

Wayman helps area cancer patients, raises awareness

BY NICK HEDRICK
nick@thebanner.com

Thanks to Debi Wayman and her committee of volunteers, area cancer patients get help with daily expenses and the community is educated on prevention.

Wayman said it all began with divine intervention.

"I've always said, I did not choose it. It chose me," said the Medora woman, who is president of HOPE Medora Goes Pink.

Over the past year, the organization has gained tax-exempt charitable status, grown its annual fundraising event and is working to increase its online footprint. Since its founding four years ago, $16,800 has been raised with all proceeds benefiting cancer patients.

Plans are already underway for next year's fundraiser, traditionally the second week of October. Organizers are putting together a four-wheeler and dirt bike display event, planning a mini-monster truck show similar to the one in 2013 and scheduling live entertainment.

The organization uses the money donated to send cancer survivors handwritten letters of encouragement and $50 gas and food gift cards to assist them as they travel back and forth from treatments.

Wayman started the organization in 2010 after her mother, Helen Sipes, passed away from breast cancer.

"Upon her departure it was a great loss because she was not just my mother, she was my friend," Wayman said.

While grieving, she said she saw a woman at church who'd lost her husband to cancer. Right then, she said, two words popped in her head: "Do something."

Two representatives from each of Medora's churches helped Wayman start the first fundraiser. From there, a committee formed to organize future events.

Current committee members are: Wayman; Barb Cowles, vice president; Rhonda Freeman, HOPE director; Nancy Davis, HOPE secretary; Teresa Brewer and Sylvia England, HOPE treasurers; Deven (Wayman) Shirley, communications; Rose Mary Cox; Mark Reynolds; Selma Verble; Cody McVay Ray; Vicki Dean; Sharon Nolan and Maria Powell.

Former committee members are Jewel Miser, Faythe Gill, Tammy Wilson, Judy Thompson, Pam Breeden, Karen Brock and Becky Zirkel.

Over the years, the Medora Lions Club has also assisted with the event. A gift of $2,000 from the Owen/Carr Township Community Grant—supported by the Community Foundation of Jackson County—also helped fund activities.

HOPE also recently gained its 501(c)(3) status as a nonprofit, tax-exempt charitable organization. The organization is working to develop a website.

The organization focuses on education, entertainment, support and fundraising with informational booths, festival activities, the Wall of HOPE and raising money for cancer patients in Jackson, Lawrence, Jennings, Scott, Monroe and Washington counties.

A young volunteer helped spark an ambassador program with Medora Community Schools.

Four years ago, Jenna Bowers—then 5—sold cookies and lemonade and donated the proceeds to the organization. Now, each class picks one boy and a penny chooses one girl to represent their class and the ambassadors a vote.

The ambassador program has so far raised more than $2,040.

Donation recipients have shown Wayman their appreciation over the years, including a woman with cancer in Bloomington.

"I've had my cancer for two years and I thought everyone had forgotten about me," the woman wrote in a letter.

Brewer said even though the committee helps out, Wayman is the one who does most of the behind-the-scenes work to make the festival possible.

"She just took control and made it what it is," said Brewer, one of the original representatives from the local churches. Brewer attends Medora Pentecostal Church.

Wayman said the committee is looking for people to donate their time during the festival. To volunteer, call Wayman at 812-966-2754.

Davidson grooms county's next leaders

BY JORDAN RICHART
jrichart@thebanner.com

DAVIDSON

Terrye Davidson has been grooming the next generation of leaders of Jackson County for the last four years.

Her work through Leadership Jackson County has helped lead to multiple new organizations, groups and causes to help fill leadership positions in the community.

This May, Davidson will have overseen the graduation of 80 Leadership Jackson County graduates. This has led to several service groups and organizations that fill needs within the community such as Jackson County Young Professionals, Arts in Jackson County and Bike Jackson County, just to name a few.

The program is nine months of meeting and planning to help take active roles in the community and Davidson is there every step of the way for the classes.

Davidson said the program is for those who simply want to make Jackson County better.

"It's all about resources and finding people who want to make Jackson County a better place to live and raise a family," she said.

Through the program's 32 years, it has changed along the way. Davidson said the program used to be funded through the Lilly grants made available and the program would have to reapply every five years for the grants.

Now the program is funded through tuition by participants and their company sponsors. The program also includes the YoJack program, which is aimed to seventh and eighth grade students.

Butt, depot project 'synonymous'

BY NICK HEDRICK
nick@thebanner.com

BUTT

Darlene Butt will begin the New Year continuing to help restore the historic Ewing Depot.

"We're still working on it," she said. "It's just a slow process."

Butt said the new windows and doors have arrived but volunteers still need to install them.

Once the structure is winterized this year, Butt said volunteers—which include members of Brownstown/Ewing Main Street—would take a break until more funding comes in.

People can mail monetary contributions to P.O. Box 75, Brownstown. Since BEMS is a 501(c)(3) organization, donations are tax-deductible.

Her mission to restore the depot began with her late husband, Jim.

She said he wanted the structure for years, writing letters and compiling information.

"He just had a real interest," she said.

The years of work to secure the property paid off and the Main Street organization decided it wanted to help tackle the project. Butt owns the property, while the town of Brownstown purchased the building from CSX Transportation.

Volunteers also recently planned to renovate the depot's interior, laying a floor and hooking up the electric, as the Banner reported in October.

Wilma Wessel, a dear friend and BEMS member who has worked with Butt on the project, said you couldn't have one without the other.

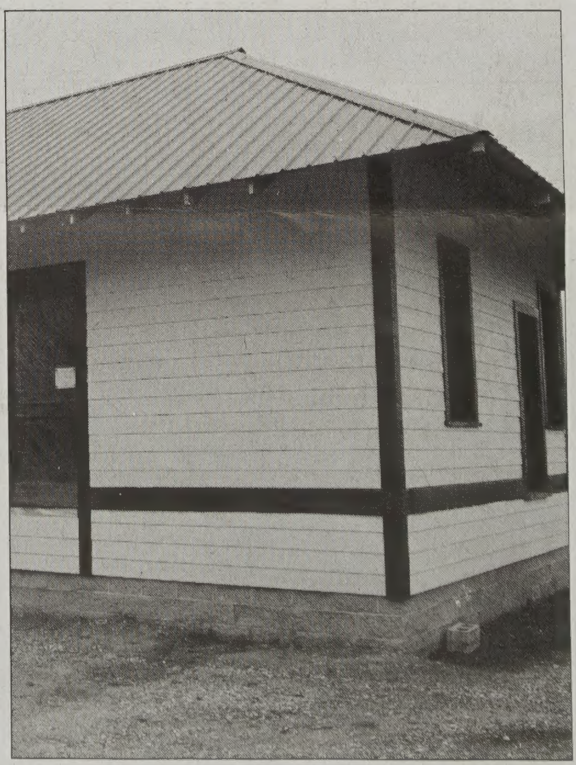
"The depot project and Darlene are synonymous," said Wessel, a three-year member of the organization.

Butt and Wessel have also worked together on the annual Artsfest. Butt is vice-chair while Wessel chairs the festival's committee.

However, Wessel said she knew Butt had given countless hours of her own time and resources to the depot.

"I wouldn't even want to begin to estimate the number of hours that lady has put into that project," she said.

Butt added, "When it gets done, it'll all belong to the town. And it will look really nice."



Darlene Butt, a member of Brownstown/Ewing Main Street, continues to organize the restoration of the historic Ewing Depot, pictured earlier this year. Banner file photo

PROCESSIONAL HYMN: "Ancient of Days" .... Jeffery

(Let the Congregation stand during the processional and remain standing until after the invocation.)

Ancient of Days, who sittest throned in glory
To Thee all knees are bent, all voices pray;
Thy love has blessed the wide world's wonderous story
With light and life since Eden's dawning day.

O Holy Father, who hath led Thy children
In all the ages, with the fire and cloud,
Through seas dryshod, through weary wastes bewildering;
To Thee, in reverent love, our hearts are bowed.

O Holy Jesus, Prince of Peace and Savior,
To Thee we owe the peace that still prevails,
Stilling the rude wills of men's wild behavior,
And calming passion's fierce and stormy gales.

O Holy Ghost, the Lord and the Lifegiver,
Thine is the quick'ning power that gives increase;
From Thee have flowed, as from a pleasant river,
Our plenty, wealth, prosperity, and peace.

O Triune God, with heart and voice adoring,
Praise we the goodness that doth crown our days;
Pray we that Thou wilt hear us, still imploring
Thy love and favor kept to us always. Amen.

God of grace and God of glory,
On Thy people pour Thy power;
Crown Thine ancient Church's story;
Bring her bud to glorious flower.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
For the facing of this hour,
For the facing of this hour.

Lo! the hosts of evil around us
Scorn Thy Christ, assail His ways!
Fears and doubts too long have bound us,
Free our hearts to work and praise.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
For the living of these days,
For the living of these days.

Cure Thy children's warring madness,
Bend our pride to Thy control;
Shame our wanton, selfish gladness,
Rich in things and poor in soul.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
Lest we miss Thy Kingdom's goal,
Lest we miss Thy Kingdom's goal.

Set our feet on lofty places;
Gird our lives that they may be
Armored with all Christ-like graces
In the fight to set men free.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
That we fail not man nor Thee,
That we fail not man nor Thee!

Save us from weak resignation
To the evils we deplore;
Let the search for Thy salvation
Be our glory evermore.
Grant us wisdom, Grant us courage,
Serving Thee whom we adore,
Serving Thee whom we adore. Amen.

Lead on, O King Eternal, The day of march has come;
Henceforth in fields of conquest Thy tents shall be our home;
Thro' days of preparation Thy grace has made us strong,
And now, O King Eternal, We lift our battle song.

Lead on, O King Eternal, Till sin's fierce war shall cease,
And Holiness shall whisper the sweet Amen of peace;
For not with swords loud clashing, Nor roll of stirring drums;
With deeds of love and mercy, Thy heav'nly kingdom comes.

Lead on, O King Eternal; We follow, not with fears,
For gladness breaks like morning Wher-e'er Thy face appears;
Thy cross is lifted o'er us; We journey in its light;
The crown awaits the conquest; Lead on, O God of Might. Amen.

OFFICE OF THE CENTRAL DISTRICT
MISSOURI SYNOD

July 19, 1946

To the Members of Immanuel Lutheran Church,
Hamilton, Ohio
Dear Fellow Lutherans:

On July 9, 1946, the undersigned, together with Vice-President M. Ilse, Jr., and the Visitor, Rev. W. Littmann, attended a meeting at Immanuel Church for the purpose of adjusting certain difficulties within the congregation relative to the resignation of Pastor William Brommer. A complete record of the meeting was prepared by Rev. N. J. Sydow, who acted as secretary at the request of the undersigned, and will be incorporated in the Minutes of Immanuel Congregation. By resolution of the meeting, the undersigned herewith submits a summary of the transactions for the information of all the members.

Forty voting members and several additional male members attended the meeting which was characterized by a fine spirit of interest and earnestness.

Everyone was given the opportunity to ask questions, state objections and voice complaints. The resignation of Pastor Brommer was gone into thoroughly. It was established that the Pastor's resignation came about on his own initiative as a result of a series of events and was tendered finally in view of his state of health. It was shown that as early as February 1944 the Pastor had requested a change of pastorate due to his impaired health. It was also revealed that the Pastor had received a generous sum of money from the Congregation at the termination of his pastorate.

The matter of the "charge" of false doctrine", which had disturbed many, was also considered at length. It was established that the Board sought to settle this matter in private meetings, according to customary practice in our Church, out of consideration for the Congregation and of the Pastor. It is unfortunate that this phase of the difficulties became known in circles outside the church, but neither the Board nor the Voting Body had preferred official charges; and the Pastor was exonerated of the "charge" after the undersigned had examined two sermon sketches which had been submitted to him.

As the meeting progressed it became apparent that lack of knowledge of the true state of affairs and possibly unwarranted suspicions presumably lead to complaints and dissatisfactions among many members of the church. Several members who had signed a petition finally declared that they were satisfied with the explanations given and suggested that the meeting be concluded. It was then about 10:30 o'clock. It might be added that during the discussions the members of the Board, to a man, expressed willingness to resign their office if by such action peace and harmony would be restored.

Permit me to state, in conclusion, that the recent experiences in your congregation should remind all of us that we Christians are frail and weak and need a great measure of divine grace and help in our church life and work. My sincere prayer to the Lord is that He may bless all members of Immanuel Church with the spirit of charity and forbearance and crown the efforts of all the members toward the upbuilding of His Kingdom among you with success.

Yours in Christ,

W. F. LICHTSINN
President, Central District

We, co-signers of a petition presented to the President of the District, were present at the meeting on July 9, 1946, and we affirm that the foregoing summary is substantially correct and endorse its sentiments.

Dear Sally,

Enclosed is a small payment towards my loan. It is all I can afford at the moment. I have put in many applications, but have yet to find a job. When I do, I will start sending $50 a week. If this is not acceptable, please let me know.

I notified you last month, after receiving your letter, of my re-payment plan, as requested. If you did not receive my letter, why did you not contact me? The loan is between you and I, not my parents.

When I have a job, you will be notified and payment will be sent.

Thank you.

Dear Hilda & Jimmy,

I wrote to Jamie last month and enclosed the figures for her loan as of 10-1-92 as well as a copy of her check ~~which~~ did not clear the bank. I asked her to let me know how she planned to begin repayment of the loan but to date I have heard nothing.

Would you please encourage her to develop a plan for repayment and then let me know what it will be. She has been out of school for over a year and a half and I think that it is time for her to both let me know what her plan is and to begin repayment.

I would appreciate knowing if you receive this note. Thanks —

Love,

Jim just wanted me to ignore your note of 11-1-92 and received Saturday, 11-7-92. However, we are returning the envelope & contents to you.

The loan in question was made in January, 1991, without our knowledge or consent. We were not aware of the loan until August, 1991. We know that you feel that we had ~~prior~~ knowledge of the Jan. '91 loan prior to Aug. '91, but we did not.

Per our understanding during the Aug. '91 meeting with you and Judy, we would not be asked and/or be contacted regarding the repayment of the loan. We are asking that this be honored.

It seems as though you think Jim and I are lousy parents and that we are not and did not "parent" Jamie as we should have.

Jamie was reared in a home where all debts & obligations were paid in full, on or before due dates; where honesty was expected and practiced, and where lies were not tolerated. If caught lying, the punishment for the lies were greater than that for whatever the lie was covering. We still expect this from our children, even as adults. Jim and I have, and still do, encourage Jamie to make an effort to repay this loan. It really hurts us to think that you do not believe we are - and have been doing so. It hurt us in Aug. '91 to think that you believed we knew of the Jan. '91 transactions between you & Jamie but did not tell you. We feel you are still blaming us and punishing us.

It hurts & grieves Jim and I greatly that Jamie is not facing her responsibilities. We, however, cannot answer for her. We can only feel the pain and hurt - the pain and hurt parents feel when their adult children are not acting responsibly and have made mistakes.

I certainly hope Mom has not had to bear the consequences of all my mistakes, for she was totally innocent of ~~the~~ my errors & mistakes that I made. #

So, we do hurt, ache, grieve and have much stress due to both you and Jamie not conducting yourselves very maturely and responsibly, both now and in January '91. If you had contacted us in Jan. '91, as you are now, the loan would never have materialized. But, there's nothing we can do now to undo the Jan. '91 events. We feel this is Jamie's responsibility; and she, and she alone, needs to resolve it. All we can do is grieve, hurt and ache... and, believe me, WE ARE!!

I have not taken the "chicken way out" by having someone else address the envelope and by omitting our return address. We have nothing to be ashamed of.

Even though Jamie is not meeting her responsibilities now as you (and "us") think she should, we, as her parents, love her and will continue to encourage her to always do what is "right" and to be a positive influence in her life and for her to be positive about herself and others.

Even though you failed to ask how any of us were doing, how Jim's retirement was going, etc., we hope this note finds the two of you well and looking forward to the holidays.

As Thanksgiving will soon be here, Jim and I will be counting our many blessings, especially our two children, whom we love very much in spite of all their shortcomings and (faults and human inadequacies) according to us and others. We will also be giving thanks for and remembering all of our dear, precious, invaluable loving, caring kind and concerned family, relatives and friends. Happy Thanksgiving, Sally & Judy!

Herr, der du ueberwunden den Tod und hoellisch Heer, in letzten Todesstunden ein sanftes End' bescher.
Fuehr uns ins Himmels Thron;
Den Leib am juengsten Tage
Weck auf ohn' alle Plage,
Herr Jesu, Gottes Sohn. Amen.

Jesaia 49, 15.

Geliebte in dem Herrn, insonderheit leidtragende Anverwandte!

Ein Teil des Amtes eines Predigers des Evangeliums ist das Troesten, Trost spenden. Ja, man kann sogar sagen, Troesten ist die Hauptaufgabe eines Predigers. Wenn er das Evangelium, die frohe Botschaft von der Gnade Gottes in Christo Jesu verkuendigt, und wenn arme, niedergeschlagene Suender diese Botschaft hoeren, so ist das Trost fuer sie, gerade ein solcher Trost, wie sie ihn noetig haben. Ein Prediger soll wider die Suende, wider den Tod, wider den Teufel den rechten Trost wissen und seinen Zuhoerern anbieten. Alle drei, Suende, Tod und Teufel, koennen schliesslich zusammengefasst werden. Wer den rechten Trost hat wider die Suende, der hat auch den rechten Trost wider Tod und Teufel. Wer da Weiss, dass seine Suenden vergeben sind, dass Gott ihrer in Ewigkeit nicht mehr gedenken wird, der kann getrost dem Tode ins Angesicht schauen, denn, wo Vergebung der Suende ist, da ist auch Leben und Seligekit.

Hier gilt es nicht, eine Seele auf den Tod vorzubereiten, sondern solche zu troesten mit Gottes Wort, die der Tod in grosse Trauer versetzt hat. So will ich denn unter Gottes des Heiligen Geistes Beistand meines Amtes warten und euch Trost spenden aus dem verlesenen Wort:"Kann auch ein Weib ihres Kindleins vergessen, dass sie sich nicht erbarme ueber den Sohn ihres Leibes? Und ob sie desselbigen vergaesse, so will ich doch dein nicht vergessen."

Ein heissgeliebtes Kind soll heute in den Schoss der kuehlen Erde gebettet werden. Dieses Kind war der Liebling des Hauses, die Freude der Eltern und Geschwistern. Aber alles ist da mit einem Schlag anders geworden. Nach ganz kurzem Kranksein ist es von dem Herrn ueber Leben und Tod aus diesem Leben gerufen worden.Nicht nur ist in diesem Hause dadurch Trauer eingekehrt, sondern wir alle empfinden tiefes Mitleid mit denen, die diesem Kinde am naechsten gestanden haben, nach dem Wort:"Weinet mit den Weinenden." Wenn unsere Freunde trauern, so verschliessen wir unser Herz nicht, sondern wir empfinden mit ihnen den Schmerz. Es ist jedoch ganz natuerlich, dass die am meisten trauern, die dem Kinde am naechsten gestanden haben.

Die Brueder und die Schwestern, die dieses Kind von herzen liebgehabt haben, die empfinden den herben Schmerz der Trennung. Es wird vielleicht lange dauern, bis sie diesen Schmerz ueberwunden haben. Aber da ist einer, der diesem Kinde noch naeher gestanden hat als Brueder und Schwestern, das ist der Vater. Sein Herz hat diesem Kinde in heisser Liebe entgegen geschlagen, und die gewaltsame Trennung hat eine Wunde verursacht, die nur langsam heilen wird. Doch, da ist eine Person, die dieses Kind noch mehr geliebt hat als Vater und Geschwister; diese Person ist die Mutter. Da hat der Tod die Schwerste Wunde geschlagen und dem Mutterherzen wird das Kind unvergesslich bleiben. Denn ein Weib kann ihres Kindleins nicht vergessen, dass sie sich nicht erbarmen sollte ueber den Sohn ihres Leibes. Will Gottes Wort den hoechsten Grad der menschlichen Liebe schildern, so haelt es uns die Mutterliebe vor Augen. Eine groessere Liebe gibt es unter Menschen nicht als die Liebe, die eine Mutter zu ihrem Kinde hat. Eine Mutter, die ihr Kind nicht liebt, die ihr Kind vergisst, dass sie sich nicht erbarmt ueber den Sohn ihres Leibes, die ist es nicht wert, dass sie Mutter genannt wird. So natuerlich und selbstverstaendlich ist die Liebe der Mutter zu ihrem Kinde, dass wir eine Mutter, die ihr nicht mehr liebt, eine Rabenmutter nennen, weil man von den Raben sagt, dass sie zuweilen ihre Jungen verlassen, ehe dieselben fluegge geworden sind, dass sie elend umkommen muessen. Nein, eine rechte Mutter kann ihres Kindleins nicht vergessen, dass sie sich nicht erbarme ueber den Sohn ihres Leibes. Eine rechte Mutter liebt ihr Kind. Unter allen Menschenherzen, daher, die dieses Kindlein liebgehabt haben, denken wir vor allem an die Mutter.

Aber so lieb auch die Geschwister, so lieb auch der Vater, so lieb auch die Mutter dieses Kind gehabt haben, so gibt es doch eine Liebe, die diese Liebe noch weit uebersteigt, und das ist die Liebe Gottes. Hoert was der Herr in unserm Texte sagt: "Kann auch ein Weib ihres Kindleins vergessen, dass sie sich nicht erbarme ueber den Sohn ihres Leibes?" Nein, will der Herr sagen, das ist doch nicht moeglich, ein Weib kann doch ihres Kindleins nicht vergessen, eine Mutter kann doch nicht aufhoeren ihr Kind zu lieben. Aber selbst wenn das moeglich waere, "und ob sie desselbigen vergaesse, so will ich doch dein nicht vergessen.

Hier wollen wir, geliebte Freunde, die Anwendung machen. Ihr wisst, ihr habt euer Kind liebgehabt: ihr irrt darinnen auch nicht. Aber der Herr ueber Leben und Tod, der es von euch genommen hat, der hat es noch mehr geliebt und liebt es jetzt noch mehr als ihr es lieben koennt. Und diese Liebe hat er auch bewiesen. Seine Liebe hat sich insonderheit darinnen gezeigt, dass er seinen Sohn auch fuer Euer Kind in die Wekt gesandt hat, der auch euer Kind erloest hat von Suende, Tod und Teufel mit seinem heiligen, teuren Blut und mit seinem unschuldigen Leiden und Sterben. Das ist der hoechste Erweis der Liebe Gottes gegen uns, dass er uns seinen Sohn zum Heiland und Erloeser gesandt hat, wie St. Johannes schreibt: "Daran ist erschienen die Liebe Gottes gegen uns, dass er seinen eingebornen Sohn gesandt hat, dass wir durch ihn leben sollen."

Und diese Erloesung, geschehem durch Christum Jesum, ist Eurem Kinde auch zu teil geworden. In der heiligen Taufe hat er es als sein Kind an und aufgenommen. Da hat er es rein gewaschen von allen seinen Suenden und es zu einem Erben des ewigen Lebens gemacht; da hat er mit Eurem Kinde einen Bund geschlossen von dem er selber sagt:"Es sollen wohl Berge weichen und Huegel hinfallen, aber meine Gnade soll nicht von dir weichen, und der Bund meines Friedens soll nicht hinfallen, spricht der Herr, dein Erbarmer." Da hat er Eurem Kinde eine Liebe erwiesen, die weit groesser ist als die Liebe, die Eltern ihren Kindern erweisen koennen. So gross also die Liebe einer Mutter zu ihrem Kinde ist, so ist doch die Liebe, die Gott seinen Kindern erweiset, noch groesser. So wenig eine Mutter ihr Kind vergessen kann, noch viel weniger kann Gott seine Kinder vergessen. Und sollte es unter entmenschten Muettern einmal vorkommen, dass eine solche ihr Kind vergaesse, so wird doch Gott seine Kinder niemals vergessen. Er liebt seine Kinder zu sehr, als dass er sie jemals vergessen sollte. Und dass er Euer Kind jetzt zu sich in den Himmel genommem hat, das ist aus lauter Liebe geschehen. Auch hier findet das Wort Anwendung:"Ich habe dich je und je geliebt, darum habe ich dich zu mir gezogen aus lauter Guete."

Gott hat Eurem Kinde grosse Liebe erwiesen. Schon dadurch, dass er ihm Leib und Seele, Augen, Ohren und alle Glieber gegeben hat, hat er sich ihm gegenueber als einen liebreichen Schoepfer erwiesen. Aber auch gerade dadurch, dass er Euch dieses Kind gegeben hat, hat er ihn grosse Liebe erwiesen, denn ihr habt nicht nur fuer den Leib dieses Kindes, so dern auch fuer dessen Seele gesorgt. Ihr habt es zur heiligen Taufe gebracht und es dem Heiland als einen kostbaren Schatz in den Schoss gelegt. Eure Gebete haben es auf seinem kurzen Erdenwandel begleitet.

Aber der treue, liebreiche, barmherzige Heiland hat es nun zu sich in den Himmel genommen. Es ist nun auf ewig allem Elend, Jammer und Not dieser Erde entnommen. Es hat schon das Ziel erreicht durch Gottes Gnade.

Und auch Euch, geliebte Freunde, liebt Gott. Seine Wege sind freilich zuweilen wunderbar, aber an seiner Guete und Liebe duerfen wir deshalb nicht zweifeln. St. Paul muss in tiefster Bewunderung ausrufen:"Wir gar unbegreiflich sind seine Gerichte und unerforschlich seine Wege? Wer hat des Herrn Sinn erkannt, oder wer ist sein Ratgeber gewesen? Wer hat ihm etwas zuvor gegeben, das ihm werde wieder vergolten?" Wenn wir Gottes Wege auch nicht verstehen koennen, so muessen wir doch glauben, dass Gott es nur gut mit uns meint, wenn er uns solche Wege fuehrt, die wir nicht verstehen koennen. Auch wenn er uns ein Kreuz auflegt, heisst es in seinem Herzen;"Kann auch ein Weib ihres Kindleins vergessen, dass sie sich nicht erbarme uber den Sohn ihres Leibes? Und ~~wenn~~ ob sie desselbigen vergaesse, so will ich doch dein nicht vergessen." Darum zweifelt nicht an seiner Liebe, an seiner Guete und Weisheit. Denn

"Was Gott tut, das ist wohlgetan, es bleibt gerecht sein Wille.
Wie er faengt meine Sachen an, will ich ihm halten stille.
Er ist mein Gott, der in der Not mich wohl weiss zu erhalten, Darum lass ich ihn nur walten. Amen.
